

Lori Peterson is a 1998 graduate of the University of Minnesota, Twin Cities. Born and raised in northwestern Wisconsin's dairyland, she is married and mother of two adult children. In her free time, Lori loves to garden, golf, cook and spend quiet time with her family and pets, Junie B. Dog and Spooky (farm cat). Prior to being hurt, she was a workaholic and is now fully recovered.

Can a 42 year-old wife and mother of 2 knocked backward into near-infant state by a traumatic brain injury (TBI) go on to:

- stay hands-on in raising her children;
- relearn to walk then run to complete her first 10K;
- pass the LSAT and be admitted to law school;
- retrain to be a part-time librarian and now author?

With God, anything is possible! A true memoir of the author's journey from a near-death TBI in an auto accident due to a raging snowstorm, helicopter transport to Mayo Clinic in WI, emergency neurosurgery by one of the nation's top-ranking neurosurgeons, a week in coma, then a grueling month of relearning to breathe, eat, talk, write, walk and everything else a healthy adult does to not only survive but thrive. ONLY true miracles granted by an all-knowing, loving God full of grace who helped this sinner learn to live life even better than before! Told in first person, this is a story of faith, family, and the miracles of modern medicine that will bring, hope, joy and inspiration to every reader, but especially to the broken.

It is my prayer that it helps many who are dealing with their own personal life traumas know that God will help you through anything if you let him.
